NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

From a Gentleman in JAPAN
Tottori, Japan, Sept. 11, 1895.
Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

STAND-BY-O'GORMAN
TO

Montevideo, 26th.

I had just finished reading in the STANDARD the interesting letter of your Paris correspondent "Scævola" in which he announces his extraordinary find of a new ode by Horace addressed to Erin, when there was a ring at the door and in walked the writer, not Quintus Horatius Flaccus, but "Scævola." He had just arrived by the Bresil and will be with you to-morrow. He showed me a copy of the ode, and a translation in English verse "a la Byron" which he has made. The exquisite latinity of the ode bears intrinsic evidence of the Augustan poet's master hand. It will be extremely fitting that you publish it with "Scævola's" English translation on the 17 of March, St. Patricks day in the morning. I should also recommend you to request General Mitre to make a Spanish translation of the same to append to his edition of Horace lately mentioned in your columns. Your Junior Editor was delighted to hear that our Chief had broken the bank at Mar del Plata and also with the news of Lieutenant Mulhall,s expedition to the South Pole. The account of what Montt said to Barros Arana caused him convulsions.

The suicide of the day is that of Federico Carbone, a well known owner of an exchange shop. He shot himself in the Buceo Cemetery and his body was found by a couple of the peons. In his pocket amongst other paper was a letter addressed to the police authorities. It is thought that financial troubles caused him to commit suicide, as he had to pay forty thousand dollars at the end of this month. Two months ago Sr. Carbone tried to insure his life for forty five thousand dollars gold in the Standard Life Assurance Co. but the cautious manager of that famous Company after due investigation declined the risk. He had better luck with the New York Life Insurance Co. whom he succeeded in letting in for thirty thousand pesos. It would be interesting to know whether he took out this policy with premeditation preferring to let in a foreign assurance company rather than his creditors. His action may give rise to a polemic but as he is dead "nil nisi bonum de mortuis remansit."

Ex-President Herrera is going to bring forward in the Senate a press gag law which will enable Government to stop the publication of facts which it finds disagreeable.

The Criminal Judge has desisted from the accusation against the Nacional, to the great fury of the President, who cannot digest the fact that there are still judges in Berlin.

The Financial Judge has handed down a sentence which condemns a prominent firm to pay a hundred thousand gold dollars for contraband operations.

Cassell in London has cabled Lessa to hurry up the arrangements for the settling of the Western Railway imbroglio and the loan for the new Bank of the Republic. Lessa has gone to Buenos Aires to consult Medici and Co.

It is reported that Latorre has commissioned a friend to hire a house for him in Montevideo and that all the interviews that he has accorded to reporters are "for the gallery."

The Minister of War is expected today from Rivera. He has installed the fourth cavalry in Durazno or rather what is left of that regiment, about 60 men.

It is said that the principal accusation against Sr. Cuadra, the prisoner of state, is that he aided the desertion of the involuntary volunteers of that regiment helping them to cross the frontier to Brazil.

The Athenæum Kermese was sucessfully opened with nearly fifteen hundred entries: nine thousand cedulas sold.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has invited the big wigs to assist at the formal reception of the Russian Minister.

Something is rotten in the army. All sorts of reports of abuses and cruelties to soldiers are reported. One man named Albornoz is reported to have received five hundred blows of the whip on his bare back.

The Chamber has approved a Bill declaring that life insurances companies cannot be embargoed.

This morning's Razon has a letter from Messrs. Hiliare and Col. Barruti declaring that there is no ground for a duel between their principal Sr. Lincoln, Barilari and Sr. Victor Paullier on account of the row occurred at Charpentier's the last night of Carnival. In the evening edition of the Razon Sr. Paullier published a letter stating that he knows nothing about any such arrangement and treating his adversary with scant courtesy. There is much more news, but no more space.

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 26th—A telegram from Constanttnople says that the Turkish Government has reorganized the law courts of the empire by naming several foreign juris. consults to the Bench. This has caused an excellent impression amongst the foreign Ambassadors to the Sublime Porte.

Lord Salisbury denied this afternoon that there was any truth in the rumour representing the Sultan as having sent the British Government a note demanding a definitive solution of the Egyptian question of occupation.

France

Paris, 26th—There is no longer any doubt as to the Budget Committee elected yesterday throwing out the Income Tax proposed by Government. The papers say that the appointment of this Committee has defeated the most important reform contemplated by Minister Doumer.

An International Literary conference is to be opened here on the 15th April to which all the European as well as some of the South American Nations have already promised to send delegates.

M. Georges Cochery was to-day almost unanimously chosen chairman of the Budget Committee.

The Magistrate entrusted with the prosecution of Arton the accomplice of Cornelius Herz in the Panama scandal, summoned to-day to his presence M. Sinoury, ex-Chief of the Secret Police. During the course of his examination M. Sinoury declared to be perfectly exact the statements made by the ex-detective Dupas who was charged with the capture of Arton. This startling announcement has caused a great sensation and it is believed that several well known persons will now be arrested in connection with the case.

The famous man of letters Arsene Houssaye died to-night almost suddenly at the age of 81. M. Houssaye was a member of the Academy.

Douai, 26th—Farbos's widow arrived here to-day to appear as a witness against Tremblié, in the trial for murder.

Belgium

Brussels, 26th—King Leopold has accepted M. de Burlet's resignation as Prime Minister and appointed M. Tavereau instead.

Mr. Burlett the ex-Prime Minister was to-day gazetted Minister Plenipotentiary in Lisbon in place of M. Verhaeghi, who has been transferred elsewhere. The climate of Portugal is expected to improve M. Burlet's at present delicate health.

United States.

Washington, 26th — General Calixto Garcia and four other superior officers who were arrested on board the Bermuda are still in close confinement.

Sweden.

Stockholm, 26th—The Government has decided to make a trial of mobilizing the Swedish army in April, and Parliament has voted the necessary funds.

Denmark

Copengagen, 26th—A majority in the Rigsday is in favour of adopting the metrical system, and it is thought a Bill will shortly be voted to this effect.

Spain

Madrid. 26th—In spite of the opposition of the Liberal Party it is thought that the Queen Regent will sign the order dissolving the Cortes on Sunday next. It is feared this may give rise to disturbances, as the political excitement is very great.

From Barcelona it is reported that the working classes in the Province of Cataluña are in a dangerous state of excitement, in consequence of the large number of men who are out of employment.

The Cortes have been dissolved. The elections for Deputies are to be held on the 12th April and for Senators on the 25th April, while the 11th May has been fixed for the re-assembling of Parliament.

Italy

Rome, 26th—The opposition to the Government on account of the disastrous campaign in Abyssinia is increasing throughout Italy. The Radical Press asserts that the Government will find itself in a minority the first time a vote be taken in Parliament. It is foreseen that stormy scenes will be enacted in the Chamber as the majority are believed to be opposed to the policy adopted by Signor Crispi and his colleagues in the African campaign.

Brazil

Rio Janeiro, 26th—The Argentine Minister Epifanio Portela will hold a conference with Dr. Carvalho next Friday in order to finish the proposed commercial treaty between Brazil and the Argentine Republic.

Mr. Phillips, the British Minister, has assured Dr. Carvalho that Great Britain desires the Trinidad Question to be settled in an honourable way for Brazil.

Exchange is weak at 9.

Chile

Valparaiso, 26th—Exchange on London is quoted at 17 ⅝.

The President and his Ministers continue here and will not return to Santiago until next week.

The press loudly applauds the decision of the United States Senate, to ask President Cleveland to declare the belligerancy of Cuba. A manifestation took place last night in favour of the Cuban revolution.

Government has called for tenders for constructing a railway to Constitucion.

Eight million dollars are set down in the Budget for the building of railways.

Argentine Republic

Rosario, 26th—Governor Leiva will remain at his estancia for a few days before returning to this city.

Merchants and exporters in general are complaining about the exorbitant freights charged by the different railway companies.

68,303 bags of wheat, 17,186 bags of maize and 85,000 bags of linseed were exported yesterday.

Wheat is firm at $6.70, maize and linseed quite the contrary.

(Special Service of the Diario.)

United Kingdom

London, 26th—Telegrams from Abyssinia state that Menelik is concentrating the greater part of his army on Assuara with the intention of cutting off Genera, Baratieri from any communication with Massoua and at the sametime prevent a retreat. The recent manoeuvres of Menelik's army show that very competent French and Russian officers are at his back, conducting the campaign on strategetic principles. The latest consignment of arms received by Menelik were sent from France; they consist of rifles, bayonets, ammunition and even mountain artillery.

A Cabinet Council was held this morning to discuss the policy to be pursued by Great Britain in view of rhe opinions expressed by the European Powers on the Evacuation of Egypt.

United States.

New York, 26th—All the officers and crew of the Bermuda have been set at liberty with the exception of four, General Garcia being amongst the latter.

Dr. Guerrero, Treasurer of the Revolutionary Junta, has been arrested, but let out on bail.

The steamer Bermuda has been returned to her owners.

Telegrams from Cuba announce that the rebels are further desolating the provinces of Santa Clara and Matanzas. Several sugar cane plantations have been destroyed.

Washington, 26th—The Senate has refused to discuss the Custom House tariffs approved by the Chamber of Representatives. Efforts are being made to come to a satisfactory arrangement.

Italy

Rome, 26th—The Italian Government intends to send further reinforcements to Abyssinia and raise the total number of forces out there to 65,000 mea.

The news about France sending arms and ammunition to King Menelik is confirmed. Government has documents in its possession which conclusively prove this. The arms were sent from Marseilles and Toulon and landed at Obock, a French colony in Africa.

France

Paris, 26th—The press is perfectly silent on the consignments of arms and ammunition sent by France to Abyssinia. It is believed that the rifles were sent to Menelik before war broke out.

The principal Powers are deliberating as to the best way of getting Great Britain out of Egypt. It is rumoured that England will be asked to evacuate Egypt within a given period.

MINISTERIAL TRIP.

The departure of H.E. Sr. Villanueva, Minister of War, on Saturday by special train for Mar del Plata, Necochea and Bahia Blanca, accompanied by Sr. Antonelli, Italian Minister.

Sr. Luiggi, Italian fortification Engineer.
Col. Garcia, Chief of Naval Staff.
Sr. White, Director Southern R.R.
Sr. Brian, Director Western R.R.
Sr. Barrow, Manager Gt. Southern R.R.

is an event that merits notice, since it points to a new turn over in Argentine affairs, and a right and proper step on the part of the Argentine Government.

Of course, our readers will not for one moment suppose that, although this distinguished party leaves for Mar del Plata, the object of their visit to that far-famed seaside resort is pleasure, or that Minister Villanueva or any of his friends will look in to the Roulette Room of the Bristol, and, like our friend Dr. Syntax, take a shy at the bank with 4000 dollars worth of markers and all but smash it.

On the contrary, the object of this special trip of the Minister of War and his distinguished companions is to have a look first at Mar del Plata, to see if it is possible to run a break-water from the rocks in front of the grotto, where our Secretary Dr. Mc. sat for many an hour listening to the breakers roar that washed the beach up to the Rambla. We trust to the activity of our secretary to send us an exact report of the movements of the Minister and his friends. Not all the gold in the bank of England would make a port of Mar del Plata, as with a strong North Easter the waves make a clean sweep up to the hall door of Mr. José Luro's house.

At Las Palmas, Canary Islands the Spaniards have been fumbling about for years making a sort of Rompe Olas, and even at Kingstown close to Dublin, Ireland, where millions have been spent, the little port is so ridiculously small compared with any of nature's ports, that it is hardly worth calling it a port at all. As for Necochea, the place is so exposed that Sr. Luiggi will at once see the absurdity of attempting to drop any money in a little place that was never intended for anything save a few fishing smacks or schooners. Bahia Blanca is the real point of attraction for the Minister and the Engineer, but Admiral Kennedy, who so frequently lay with his flag-ship in that bay, was always of opinion that vessels have to lie out too far, and the expense of fortifying so open a bay, flanked with such mud banks and "caugrejales", would be so enormous that in his despatch to the British Admiralty he reported the scheme impracticable. Admiral Kennedy took his flagship the Ruby into the San Blas Harbour in the year 1883, without pilot or buoys and was so charmed with the natural advantages of San Blas that he sent a special report on that Bay and harbour to the British Admiralty, which we recommend the Minister of War and Sr. Luiggi to get hold of, as Admiral Kennedy distinctly asserted that he considered San Blas harbour superior to that of Rio Janeiro, and superior to every other port or harbour on the whole Argentine South East Coast.

Minister Villanueva and Sr. Luiggi can therefore form no opinion of Bahia Blanca until they first visit San Blas, which seems by nature to have been constructed for the real, bonafide Argentine Naval port.

We who have seen some of the splendid engineering works of Sr. Luiggi, congratulate the Argentine Government on having secured the services of so distinguished a man, and we feel quite confident that when he visits San Blas he will agree with Admiral Kennedy as to the splendid natural advantages of that port.

What most surprised Admiral Kennedy was that the Argentine Government, having so noble a natural port as San Blas, and at so convenient a point on its coast, never made anything of it. In his report to the British Admiralty, which was never published, he distinctly told the Lords of the Admiralty that at a very trivial expense San Blas could be made impregnable, and that if it belonged to any European power it would be made another Portsmouth, Spezzia, Toulon or Cherbourg, and that in his opinion none of those fortified ports presented the same natural advantages as San Blas.

At the mouth of San Blas harbour the Argentine Government owns a magnificent Island called the "Isla de Gama" covering an area, we believe, of some three leagues of splendid pasture land, where for many years there have been thousands of sheep and cattle. The pasturages on this island are equal to anything on the main land. This Island forms the Bay which is entered by grand channel with from 24 to 37 feet of water. The Bay is the shape of a sack or bag, and so large that all the navies of the world could ride at anchor in it. The largest vessels can anchor within pistol shot of the shore in from 50 to 100 feet of water.

What San Blas wants is a railway to connect it with Bahia Blanca and a telegraph line to the capital. Both these are coming now pretty fast, and the sooner the better.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

RUSSO-TURKISH ALLIANCE—BRITISH FOREIGN RELATIONS.

(From our own Correspondent)

Jan. 24.

In a previous letter by this mail I have talked about pyrotechnics, and really there is nothing that will better describe the series of announcements which, like rockets, keep starting from one quarter of the world or another. The latest sensation is given by the Pall Mall Gazette, which assures us that Russia and Turkey have signed a treaty of alliance, offensive and defensive, on the lines of the treaty of Unkiar-Skelessi in 1833. The news has found general credence, but so far no confirmation has been received from the Foreign Office or the Embassies. The rival evening paper, the Westminster Gazette, refers to the subject in the following terms:—

"We are informed that the British Government have no confirmation of the report as to the conclusion of a Russo-Turkish Treaty, and the particulars published by the Pall Mall are totally discredited in Downing-street.

"On inquiry at the best informed Russian circles in London, we find a total disbelief in the authenticity of the news published by our contemporary. The story, the Russians say, is obviously false. Russia's real difficulty about securing any exclusive position with regard to the passage of the Dardanelles does not lie with the Sultan, but with the Powers. An agreement with the Sultan, which would intensify rather than allay the jealousy of the Powers, would make things not better but worse.

"The Treaty, if signed, would not be worth the paper that it was written on. That a Treaty might be concluded with Turkey by Russia is not impossible, but the present report that such a Treaty has been negotiated is incredible, owing to the insertion of this clause about the Dardanelles. Russia is a party to European treaties regulating the matter. Russia is perfectly well aware that a Russo-Turkish Treaty on the subject would have no international validity, while it would unquestionably inflame international jealousies. Whatever advantage there might be in such an agreement, Russia can obtain it from the Sultan when she pleases, for the Sultan is the Czar's concierge. But to commit him by a formal Treaty to do that which he could be compelled to do at any time when his consent was needed would be a false move which no one can believe the exceedingly astute M. de Nelidoff could dream of committing.

"The treaty of Unkiar-Skelessi affords no precedent, for it was signed in 1833, long before the Treaty of Paris placed the navigation of the Dardanelles under the control of the European Powers.

The story is not a new canard. It was current in Press circles before Christmas in Rome, where it was firmly believed by some who are usually very good judges of the source of such reports."

All this may be quite true, and the same opinion is held by the Paris correspondent of the London Standard, who is generally well informed, but the rumour points to the complete break-up of European international relations which was evident enough when the fleets which were assembled in the Ægean as a threat to the Sultan steamed away each on its own account. The powers could not have been baffled by Turkey alone, or even by their own mutual jealousies if one of them had not absolutely supported the Sultan. Lord Salisbury, no doubt, foresaw the difficulties, but he allowed himself to be overruled by the pulpits. This is what Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett writes in to-night's Pall Mall:—

"Sir, I trust our fanatical atrocity-mongers and pseudo-sentimentalists are now content. They have succeeded in causing British interests the gravest injury that has been inflicted for eighty years. They have alienated perforce our old and invaluable ally, and driven Turkey into the arms of the Tsar, as we always predicted they would do. They have provoked the death of thousands of wretched Armenians, who but for them would have been to-day living and prosperous.

"They have begun the alienation of Germany and Austria. They have placed the whole Mediterranean at the mercy of an anti-British combination.

"They have dealt a tremendous blow at the peace and security of our Indian Empire.

"All this they have done, and they have conferred not the slightest benefit upon any human race, interest, or individual. Their stupendous folly and its disastrous consequences are enough to make angels weep.—Your obedient servant,

E. Ashmead-Bartlett."

There is something ludicrous in the kind of panic which has been established in the world by the rapid fitting out of the British special service squadron now lying at Spithead. A French admiral tells his countrymen that Britannia still rules the waves. An American admiral cautions the dismayed Yankees that if they go to war with England they may overrun Canada, but they will be bottled-up in in New York. Herr Vamberbal tells the Germans that their idea of sending ships to Delagoa Bay and of going to war with England is ludicrous, their ships and transports would be all shattered and sunk in a week. "Pray Mr. Salisbury," say the Americans, "are you going to send that flying squadron to the Bahamas? if so....." The French have suddenly been seized with the notion that part of the British flying squadron is to go to the Mediterranean, and to-night they threaten to mobilize their naval reserves. And this after we have just made concessions in Siam and have hinted at an Anglo-French alliance. It is all ridiculous, for the fact is we have got our flying squadron off Spithead and do not seem to know what to with it, unless we send it to Berehaven, which will at all events put money into the pockets of a few Irish boatmen and hotel keepers.

The Pall Mall Gazette humorously sums up another view of the question. It says:—

"The marked disposition which this country has recently evinced to take to—and keep—its natural element seems to have started a chorus of "Thalatta! Thalatta!" all round. Everybody is for putting to sea just now, whether he can or can't. Admiral of the Fleet William wants a trifle of twelve millions sterling to fit him out, but a hard-hearted, harder-headed Reichstag is noways inclined to foot that bill. The ineffable Shadow, too, he wants, or a friend of his and ours has persuaded him that he ought to want, a Flying Squadron of his own; and a little matter of 200,000 pounds Turkish clips his wings. The second French turret-ship this week passed Gibraltar yesterday, but the opinion of Rear-Admiral Dupont does not read in favour of a more extensive flutter of the tricolour just at present. Then there is M. de Witte. He is going to sea likewise, as soon as ever he can—this time seven years, he says. M. de Witte has a tremendous programme, anyhow. He is going to spend on his master's navy in the course of that seven years no less than 403 millions of roubles—some £60,450,000 in plainer figures. Of this portentous sum £7,550,000 is to be put into battleships in the course of the next twelve months. At what rate per annum the remainder is to be dispensed will depend, we are told, on circumstances. So we should think. However, as the plates and engines will mostly have to come from us, we shan't object, unless, of course, we happen to want them for ourselves."

The Russo-Turkish treaty was the subject of a debate in the United States Senate yesterday morning, in which the members of the Committee on Foreign Relations took a prominent part. Mr. Davis, the author of the much-discussed resolution on the Monroe doctrine, spoke on behalf of the committee as follows:—"The news of this alliance, if confirmed, means that Russia will be allowed to move her armies across the Turkish border, which will result in the immediate settlement of the Armenian question. If France has entered into an alliance with Russia and Turkey, it means that the fleets of those countries will control the Mediterranean which means more than any one can now foresee. It also means that England will have something to do besides bullying the United States."

By the way, Mr. Davis's resolution, so inimical to England, has been repudiated by President Cleveland as "inopportune and unfortunate." Mr. Wolcott in the Senate has made a noble speech in favour of England and against the President's message. Mr. Wolcott alluded to the brave and dignified attitude of this country when threatened by the whole world, and said he was proud of being descended from the English race. His speech had a very great effect, and the truth is the American statesmen are aiding us in our difficulty with Venezuela, and their good intentions will be met half way on this side. Apparently England and America are on the best of terms. Both begin to see and to own the monstrousness of a war between nations so intimately connected in commerce, literature and domestic feeling as well as by blood. Lord Salisbury seems willing to extend his views of arbitration so long as British colonists already settled shall not be disturbed, on whichever side of the Schomburgk line they may be. Similar concessions will be made to Venezuela. Our relations with the United States being easier and the Armenian Question no longer on our hands, the interest of the moment seems to be gravitating once more towards Egypt which, as far as we are concerned, is now the Eastern Question.

STAND-BY O'GORMAN'S LETTER.

Montevideo, Feb. 24, 1896.

I have been outside and returned too late to gather news and wire it to you how we buried the carnival yesterday. Alas! the local press boasted too early of the bloodless and waterless nature of this year's Saturnalia. The first three days passed off in good natured jollity with only 300 arrests for trifling misdemeanors and our papers drew flattering comparisons, with the rude horse-play and rows which took place in your city, and rejoiced in the unusually skilful manner with which the Montevideo police force kept order amongst the unprecedently large crowd of merry-makers. On Sunday the corso was quite as crowded as on the previous days. Everything that had wheels was pressed into service, and the tax inspectors, by order of the chief of police, forbore from inquiring whether all the vehicles had taken out the corresponding licence.

There were no pomitos nor water throwing; serpentinas and "papelitos" only were used, and what lots of them! The former were collected in piles by the street arabs, who set fire to them, to the imminent danger of passing carriages festooned with them and filled with girls in light dresses. Several arrests were made for starting bon-fires which might easily have set fire to the thousands of serpentinas hanging from balconies and carriages. As usual the thick of the fun was in the Plaza Matriz in front of the Uruguay Club and Charpentier's restaurant. In the latter not a table was to be had for love or money. Those who had tables in the large open windows enjoyed unexpected culinary combinations. The passing masks showered "papelitos" in handfuls into their soup, and their entrées were saupoudrées with the same condiment. Some maskers, more adroit, succeeded in throwing serpentinas into the champagne of the staid diners at the back of the room. One of the O'Gorman clan saw his glass dexterously lassoed and broken to smithereens by a paper ribbon from a fair hand. Then a "joven distinguido" with an unconscionably long, false proboscis entered and engaged in a hot discusion with others of his ilk, and big words were exchanged. It is said that a duel is being arranged as the outcome. No one will be hurt, and honor will be saved. Next a nicely dressed little boy engaged in picking up serpentinas pursued his industry under the wheels of a heavy cart filled with a comparsa, which passed over him. The boy was taken to a pharmacy and the driver, though in no way to blame, to the police station. Then some "distinguished soldiers", which term I suppose may correspond to that of "high private", got into a row with some other masks, and a sergeant dressed as a baby was taken to the hospital with a nasty cut in the ribs and another in the hand. Attention was next attracted by two masked women, evidently ladies of position, who were eagerly scanning the passing carriages. At last one of them cried: "there goes the canalla" as a carriage with a masked man and woman passed. The younger of the two masks rushed up to the carriage and with sobs and cries poured out her woes 'coram populo'. The elder mask, supposedly the mother-in-law, stood on the sidewalk and gave proof of possessing an extraordinary rich vocabulary of invectives. The charming mask who accompanied the erring spouse jumped from the carriage and disappeared in the crowd. He went off with his wife and mother-in-law and I leave to your imagination the scene which took place when they arrived at the conjugal domicile.

A dozen jolly tars from one of the warships in port were celebrating the carnival in a café, not wisely but too well, as is the wont of Jack ashore, and they made a good deal of a row. To them enters a 'vigilante' of whose remarks in Spanish they understand not a word. As his actions seemed pugnacious, one of the gallant tars, they were all unarmed) offered to fight him and went at him with his fists. The 'vigilante' drew his sword and cut him down with a blow on the head. The sailor was removed to the Hospital.

On Saturday in one of the courts there was some trouble between a lawyer named Parsons and an auctioneer named Caprario. The latter called the lawyer out to speak to him, and after the exchange of a few emphathic phrases he violently applied his fist to the mouth of the legal gentleman. Parsons chose as his seconds a lawyer and an attorney. Caprario chose an apothecary and a gentleman. It now appears that the smitten Parsons demands such a singularly blood-thirsty duel that his seconds have thrown up the job.

Judge Garzon, of the Commercial Court, who served as judge during the late vacation (Juez de Feria) has been obliged to appear before the Supreme Court to explain his action in sending a lady, on the demand of her husband, to the Asylum of the Good Shepherd, a sort of prison where obstreperous females of the lowest class are imprisoned.

Sr. Cuadra, the political prisoner from Rivera, detained by order of the President in the barracks of the 4th Cazadores, has by order of a Judge been removed to the police headquarters, where he enjoys a private room, but is still kept "incomunicado. He is next to be removed to the House of Correction. Nothing has yet transpired in public in regard to the revolution in Rivera, which caused the sudden departure of the Minister of War and his troops of Artillery men. The public regard the whole matter as a "fake" revolution devised by the Government, in order to permit it to arrange the coming elections to suit itself. Sr. Cuadra is supposed to have made revelations of a wide-spread conspiracy. Meanwhile he complains that Government is not doing justice to his name and does not treat him on the square.

ROSARIO.

A REMINISCENCE OF MONTE CARLO, FROM OUR ROSARIO CORRESPONDENT, AND DEDICATED TO HIS UNKNOWN BUT "SIMPATICO" FRIEND "SYNTAX."

The reading of "Syntax's" account of his nearly "breaking the bank at Mar del Plata" has made my mouth water, bringing back to my memory a bright night I had at that "doyen" of gambling hells—Monte Carlo. Alas! When I remember those bygone days I feel inclined, like the old and ugly hag in the "Pasha of many tails" to exclaim:— "Time has been—time has been!"

I remember it was in the forenoon of the 3rd November, 1889, and I was sitting in solitary grandeur in the parlour of the Argentine Consulate of Mentone; I was the Consul, if you please, when my "factotum" Fiamente, who by the way, must have been a relation to our own General of that name, handed me two telegrams, one from Mr. A. C. Perkins, Argentine Commissioner in Berlin, telling me I should have the honour of receiving his visit next day, and the other from M. Ardoin' Chief of H. M. Charles IV's Forces in Monaco, inviting me and suite to the grand ball to be given on the night of the 4th November, in honour of its being the birthday of that Prince.

Mr. P. duly arrived on the following day, and notwithstanding the certain amount of importance which he brought from the Prussian capital, through having been received at Court, and entertained by sundry and conspicuous members of the German nobility, he was highly impressed by the reception I gave to him in good old Mentone. The flash Argentine flag was gracefully waving over the Consulate house in his honour, and the Consul's trap with a pair of white ponies, a liveried coachman and "tiger" was waiting to receive him at the station, much to the admiration of the general crowd, who took it for granted that it was the lamented Emperor Frederick who was coming from Budighere on a flying visit to the Argentine Consul in Mentone.

We had a jolly dinner "en famille," and Mr. P. and I proceeded to "rig" ourselves out, I in a dress suit fresh from Poole's in London, which I "estrenared" in the Alhambra, and the former in a flash costume made for him by the German Emperor's own tailor.

We arrived at Monte Carlo at about 9 p.m., and proceeded forthwith to the American Bar, presided by a namesake of mine, the celebrated "Leo" of Parisian and London repute—in the cocktail making line. Here we met in genial company the U. S. Secretary of Legation in Paris, ditto the one in Constantinople, the Venezuelan Consul General and Secretary in London, and some half dozen of distinguished and millionaire Americans who were going through a pleasure trip in the South of France. Champagne cocktails were the order of the night, and when the time drew near for us to attend the ball a dozen of bottles of the widow Cliquot's brand stood like old John Brown's bottle "empty on the shelf"—a row of bodies without any souls. We threw the dice for the lot, and the Venezuelan Secretary and I remained as ultimate candidates for "forking out." We tied on 4 aces, and the definite result was to be arrived at by a "flat foot", in which my "colega" distinguished himself by throwing 4 aces and a six. I gave myself for lost and threw—5 aces!—"Tableau" and a cocktail all round, this time at my expense.

Well, I thought to myself that Dame Fortune was giving me a preliminary hint to pay a passing visit to the roulette tables, and I acted on the inspiration of the moment; and got my friend P. to accompany me, somewhat against his newly acquired German inclinations. We found the rooms crowded "au grand complet", and as I had not seen them before, in my more than frequent visits to them; There was the Prince of Wales, going about in his usual staid elegance with a smoking coat and a huge white camelia in its button-hole, and accompanied by several members of the English nobility, conspicuous among whom was the Duke of Hamilton, who played the maximan at each table, on 8 numbers, with the most execrable luck. The Prince of Montenegro was also there showing off to the general admiration his gallant and military bearing. There were also Russian Princesses and Spanish Countesses by the dozen, and the "vielle" and "nouvelle garde" of Paris was represented on that night, with all the paraphernelia of powder, "rouge," paint and dress. Well sir.—I had about 7 Napoleons in my pocket, and on getting close to a roulette table, I turned suddenly to Mr. P., and said to him, "I bet you I hit a "pleno" ——"Nonsense"—he said with his recently acquired German phlegm—"don't play"—I be—blessed, I said if I don't—what about these 5 aces, and dame Fortune's hint" I handed the "croupier" at the head of the table, 2 naps. and told him to place them on number 26. "Rien ne va plus" was sung out, the wheel turned, and "vingt six, noir, pair et passe," was cried by the banker, and reached my gratified ears.—Oh! Oh! said I, what do you think of that my Germanized friend?

I left the two naps as a "nest egg" and handed my friend the "croupier" the maximum (9 Louis,) with the short order to place them on "quinze plein." Again I left the next egg, and again I sent the maximum on to zero, and by Jingo, zero came out, I winning thus, three times running on three independent numbers!

I played no longer that night, leaving the "casino" with something over 700 louis in gold and banknotes, and after the dance, which was a most brilliant affair, I had the pleasure of parting with a good few of them in a champagne supper I stood at the "Metropole," and where I had as guests, 2 Russian Princesses, a Polish Countess, a decayed French Duchess and several conspicuous members of the diplomatic "corps" in Europe.

I may add that I wisely turned my back on the "Casino" and made a two months' tour through Italy, "en prince," with the proceeds of that memorable night. Well may I quote the poet, when I remember all this, and say with a sigh that comes from the very bottom of my heart:—

"Ayer maravilla fuí,
Hoy sombra mia no soy;
Aprended flores de mi,
Lo que vá de ayer á hoy!"

THE AINTAB ATROCITIES.

ACCOUNT BY AN AMERICAN LADY DOCTOR.

In a telegram from Constantinople, given above, it is stated that a fresh outbreak is expected in Aintab, on the border of the devastated districts. A simple but graphic description of the last Aintab massacre has been received by the American Outlook from Dr. Caroline F. Hamilton, a medical missionary at Aintab, and formerly a graduate of Smith College. We give a few extracts:—

Aintab, Dec. 4-10, 1895.

For weeks before the outbreak here there had been much alarm felt in the city. Troops were passing through constantly on their way to the north, and in the market and streets insults were offered to Christians, goods were taken without payment, &c., till the people kept indoors as much as possible, and the schools were closed for a few days, but afterwards were opened. Had we known of events outside we should have felt far more uneasy. Our first news came from Oorfa and Marash, both sacked, and then our turn came. The morning of Nov. 16, on going to the hospital, the cook told me that there was trouble in the city, and the horror-stricken faces of the servants confirmed the word. One glance from the windows—for the hospital stands on a hill which overlooks nearly the whole city—was sufficient to show that there was cause for alarm. A great mob was surging through the streets to a quarter so near that we could look down on the houses being plundered and torn to piecos, could watch the mob as it filled the streets and courtyards, and could hear the yells of the Kurds and the shrieks of terror from the poor defenceless people, while all the time the constant firing of the Kurds (for they are permitted to carry arms), with, underneath all, a hoarse roar like that of wild beasts, made up a frightful combination of sounds. The poor servants, who had come a few hours before from their homes in that very section, were entirely demoralised, and could do nothing but cry and wring their hands, for all had left little children.

Our gates were instantly closed and barred; no one admitted except a good Moslem neighbour whom we shall always regard as our guardian angel. He begged us to take refuge in his house, but there were patients too ill to be moved, and we, of course, could not leave. The servants could not work, so terrified were they; and we, two women, the only Americans on the premises, settled down to dressing patients and waiting on them, giving comfort as we could to the frightened, sorrowful people about us. It was not till night that we learned how our neighbour had held a mob at bay till the soldiers arrived, thus saving us from being sacked, if not from worse things. All day long our chief work was to comfort patients and servants, and try to keep them away from the windows. No one could go home, and we found what accommodations were possible for them all. However, nobody could sleep, the least sound startling us all.

Sunday morning (Nov. 17) a sight met our eyes that was far from reassuring. From all directions villagers were seen flocking in towards the city, and soon they had massed down near the old castle. At every spare moment I looked to see what was forthcoming—hearing again and again a great noise as this new mob were repulsed in their attempts to gain an entrance into the city. As we were at dinner they made a move towards our end of the city, and after a half-hour they had passed the guards—who were forbidden to fire—and were rushing towards the houses close at hand. Never can I forget that sight. They were not men, but beasts, wild to get at their prey. The feeling of utter helplessness and the knowledge of what we were handed over to were awful. We called together all the people who were in our house and quietly told them to go with us to the hospital, thinking it would be easier to die together. To understand how we were shut off from other people, I might here explain that every house, or group of houses, is walled in, with one large door opening out into the street. Thus our house and the hospital are in one inclosure, the girls' seminary in another, while the boys' college and professors' house are some ten minutes distant from here.

We could not see what was taking place, and only wondered that we remained safe. After a couple of hours the good old Moslem neighbour came in with the first detachment of wounded. It was a sight to sicken the bravest heart, for most of the wounds were made with axes and large knives, and little children, women, and old men, as well as the young and strong, had been attacked as they fled.

THE BANK AT MAR DEL PLATA.

Dear STANDARD,

Commencing your two-column article in to-day's issue, on Mar del Plata, I thought the Roulette Boss had nobbled you. Perish the thought! Reading on, it dawned upon me that "Syntax" must be a gifted member of your museum—I mean of your statistical staff—with a great head for figures (of speech), He says "sums in addition, multiplication and division, and large amounts, were done in an instant without the aid of a slate or pencil".

Evidently he has been trying to emulate this feat, but I fear must have stood too many "hours around the table" and tired his feet.

The facts (?) and printers' errors (?) of the two columns are summed up in the last paragraph as an exact statement of the money invested and amounts won in a single game, and playing on one number and combinations, and finishes: "Capital invested, $4,000: total won, $16,420" "The whisper ran that I had smashed the Bank, but this was a mistake (slightly). The Bank starts every night on a capital of $25,000, and all that I had won only amounted to $16,440 (sic).

Now this is a plain statement, twice repeated, of how much he won; but suppose we deduct the $4,000 capital before calculating winnings. However, that would leave a substantial sum, and the only objection I have to it is the coincidence that the banker, after doing complicated sums for hours correctly, should make such an ass of a calculation in paying "Syntax" $12,420 besides his stakes.

It may, perhaps, interest "Syntax" to learn that a child having its multiplication table, and with $100 or less, could break the Bank without fear of losing a cent if the odds were as stated by him (even after deducting his stakes).

Next time you give "Syntax" a job like his "Mar del Plata" affair, I would suggest that the STANDARD cellar be locked, unless it happens to be empty.

Yours truly,

Criticus.

MURDERER SENTENCED TO DEATH.

INTERVIEW WITH CARUSSO.

Judge Ponce y Gomez condemned Antonio Carusso, the murderer of Santiago Calcagno and his son, to death yesterday. The murder was one of the most atrocious and cold blooded crimes in the annals of murders committed on Argentine soil. Carusso was in the employment of Calcagno, and was led to murder the father and son prompted by motives of robbery. He first dug a grave outside the house occupied by his intended victims, and then quietly waited until they made their appearance late that night.

Carusso felled Santiago Calcagno with a blow from a wooden pounding mortar and then despatched the son in the same brutal manner.

After burying his victims, and sacking the house, he concealed the instrument of his crime, decamped and took refuge in Cataldo Fazio's barber shop in Barracas, until finally captured by the police a few days afterwards. Carusso alleges that he killed the Calcagnos in self defence, and that he had previously been threatened by them. The condemned man states that he has not been properly defended, and that the maximum of punishment he could receive amounts to three years' imprisonment, as the case is one of manslaughter.

Carusso listened to the reading of his death sentence with the greatest indifference. His counsel will ask the Court of Appeal to revoke the sentence. We hope the Court will do no such thing, as Carusso richly deserves to be shot, not once but times over if it were possible.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent).

Feb. 26th.

The Government has consented to pay to Mr. Rojas, the contractor carrying out the drainage scheme in the South of the Province, the sum of 90 cents per cubic metre of dredging definitely finished in the A. B. C. D. and E. Sections where unforseen expense has had to be incurred. The price asked by Mr. Rojas was $1.17.

The plans and estimates have been approved for the construction of a bridge over the Arroyo Tamanguyu.

THEATRES.

The winter season at the theatres is rapidly approaching, and amongst others, the Comedia is making great preparations. On Saturday next, the new Company will make their debut, and it is one of the strongest that has yet appeared at this favorite place of amusement. The leader and director is Julio Ruiz, who is a host himself, and amongst the company may be numbered: Alcalde Francisca, Asensio Laura, De-Gasperis Irma, De-Gasperis Zema, Fernandez Sofia, Garcia Antonia, Golobardas Cármen, Marin Ernestina, Benach Ricardo, Caba Manuel, Cardona Ricardo, Comerma Leopoldo, Giné Ramon, Ruiz Julio, Saullo José R., Tapias Pedro and Veguer Antonio. The sisters De-Gasperis are exceptionally good, but will not appear until towards the end of next month. The new Company will introduce twenty new pieces, that have been most sucessful in Madrid.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There was a last-rose-of-summer hue about the weather yesterday that depressed the spirits of our light hearted citizens and led to foreboding that the full Mrs. Wiggins to-morrow at ante-prandial cocktail hour will be full of "agua." There was a pause in the battle in Mammou's Temple. The Ursines made a dash across the Rubicon, but were beaten back, and both armies passed the night in their positions of Tuesday. The cables from Europe show that the real Eastern Question—the evacuation of Egypt by the British—is now coming fast to the front, and will soon put Venezuela, Abyssinia, Armenia and the Transvaal out of the world's head. Menelik seems to have the Italians in a trap in Abyssiania, and matters are looking very serious in that quarter. There is no longer any doubt that France is helping Mrs. Menelik to drive out the Italians.

We note in an evening colleague that the Chilian rate of exchange on London is at three hundred per cent discount! We would n't object to take a few millions at that rate, or even a little higher, to oblige the drawers.

In reply to the anxious enquiries of our friend Stand-by O'Gorman as to the quantity of beer consumed here during Carnival, we learn from a reliable source that, on the three first day 700,000 "choppes" of Quilmes went down the throats of the citizens; and on Saturday ("The night before Larry was stretched") and Sunday last, 300,000, more making in all a round million. This is very creditable drinking indeed—especially for the beer.

We have received from our Mar del Plata Secretary a most amusing chapter worthy of the pen of Dickens, narrating the sorrows of an English gentleman who went down to Mar del Plata for rest. Sam Slick never wrote a more side-splitting chapter. We must hold it over for a day or two until we have space.

By a strange editorial coincidence, our Junior and Senior editors have both arrived back from their trips, one from Europe and the other from Mar del Plata. Our truly difficult period of pulling with one oar is over, and everything now is plain sailing, with a favourable wind, and the lost ode in our junior editor's pocket.

The Paraguayan Chaco, we are happy to say, is at last coming to the front, and the formation of a new company in Antwerp, which we announced in our last, points to a new departure in that rich but neglected district. We fully concur with Mr. Busk's remarks respecting Mr. Freund, who has perhaps travelled more through the Paraguayan Chaco than any other European, and who has frequently favoured us with most valuable correspondence.

The weather has grown so suddenly cold in Mar del Plata that nearly all the visitors have cut stick and come back to town. The Bristol is half empty, ditto, ditto, Progreso and Cano, and we suppose our host Georges Mercer closes his restaurant next week, as the expenses are enormous.

Nothing new from Chile yesterday except that Dr. Quirno Costa has a presentiment that he is destined by Providence to sign a final treaty of peace and friendship with Chile before he leaves the Legation there for good and hands it over to Dr. Terry, ex-Minister of Finance.

We have to thank Mr. Arnold Moen, the well-known librero, for a copy of a charming little volume entitled "Entre as Nymphéas" by the talented Chargé d'Affaires of the Brazilian Legation, Mr. J. M. Carvalho. The book was printed at the Imprenta Vasconia, and does much credit to that establishment.

A very pleasant gathering was held last evening, in a private room at the Bier Convent, for the purpose of making a presentation, and wishing God Speed to Mr. C. P. Robinson, who is leaving these shores for those of South Africa. The presentation took the form of a very handsome travelling bag, and illuminated scroll, which were handed to Mr. Robinson by the chairman, Mr. J. Monteith Drysdale. A most enjoyable evening was spent by those present, amongst whom may be enumerated Messrs. A. Anselm, L. Anselm, Leslie Wilson, Cecil McKean, Macdonald, W. Graham, F. Bailey, W. Hannaford, W. Black, W. Atherton, J. Skinner, A. Basch, F. Hetherington, R. Harrison, W. Bulfin and J. Green.

The new Bolivian Minister believes in the friendly influence of the telegraph wires, and has proposed to Dr. Alcorta, M.F.A. a convention to improve the telegraph service between Sucre and Buenos Aires, which is certainly susceptible to a most tremendous lot of improvement.

The discussion of the Chilian muddle has been transferred from Santiago to Buenos Aires, and "Abuelo" Barros Arana is apparentlyout of it. "Tant mieux". Yesterday the Chilian Minister Dr. Morla Vicuña had a long conference with Dr. Alcorta about the new treaty proposed by Dr. Quirno Costa and Mr. Guerrero, Chilian M.F.A. So long as Barros Arana is forced to keep his mouth shut, there is some chance of a friendly settlement.

The National Railway Board has submitted to the Minister of the Interior the new Regulations ftr "viaticos" and "sobresueldos" for the employees of the National Railways.

Our latest dates from the Isthmus of Panama are to the 30th ult. The Venezuelan question between John Bull and his Uncle Sam is the great topic there for the moment. Mr. Luis Budinich, who in company with Bem, made the remarkable journey on foot from Buenos Ayres to Chicago, is now on the Isthmus, having arrived at Colon on the 23rd January, and purposes giving lectures ot his journey The time consumed in the journey was 2 years 9 months 25 days. He started on his long walk on August 7, 1892 and concluded it June 2, 1895. The countries traversed are Argentina, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, including the Isthmus of Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, the United States until he reached the grand city of Chicago. Mr. Budinich is en route to Peru. The work on the Canal is going on steadily and there are now 4,300 navvies at work. This looks like business. According to news brought by the Panama steamer City of Sidney there is likely to be another uprising in Honduras before long. Col. Drummond, an Englishman, is said to have some connection with the scheme to overthrow the present Government. The plot is being formed in Guatemala.

We return our best thanks to our old friend Mr. Charles Davis, the popular attorney, for a present of the most delicious wine making French grapes from his chacra at La Plata. Tney are simply delicious: little black lumps of luscious sweetness,

If any of our readers whose maternal tongue is not English are thinking of asking Uncle Sam for his citizenship, they must first take a few lessons in Shakespeare's tongue from our friend Mr. Roper or other teacher, as Sam wants no citizens who cannot speak English, or at least American. This was determined by Justice Pryor in the Supreme court of New York on January 9, after refusing naturalization to six out of eight would-be citizens. Justice Pryor made the following announcement:—"I shall refuse to naturalize any more persons, or to admit them to citizenship unless they have read the Constitution of the United States and can speak the English language, which is the language of this country. Persons who cannot fill these requirements need not come before the Court. They will only waste their time by so doing."

We congratulate Argentina's oldest and best friend in the London Editorial Bus, The South American Journal, on its new departure, a supplement in Spanish called "La Industria," full of all the latest news about British manufactures and machinery, which cannot fail to be of use to the traders of all Spanish American republics. It also contains scientific and technical articles and descriptions that must prove of great utility to merchants on both sides of the Atlantic. "La Industria" is a decidedly happy thought. What British manufactures have always hitherto neglected in their Spanish-American trade is the proper and profuse advertizing of their wares in the newspapers on this side. Trade circulars are worse than useless, as the general public do not see them, nor would not read them if they did.

The chances are that there will be no Serpentines here next Carnival; not because they interfere with telephone and telegraph wires, but by reason of the great danger from fire which they create. In Montevideo there were some narrow escapes. In Paris it has been found necessary to prohibit play with serpentines in the streets, on account of the injury they do the trees, and still more on account of the danger they offer from fire.

Our esteemed contemporary the Montevideo Times went in for a most amusing typographical error the other day, and explains it thus:—"Our type-setters, not one of whom understands English, occasionally make some very comical unintentional errors. For instance, in to-day's account of the Carnival, the original proof made us say. "There were a great many children exquisitely dressed, and also far many more ladies than before appeared in 'guy' fancy costumes, but generally 'unwashed' and bareheaded. The numerous beauties of Montevideo rarely show to greater advantage than thus. We wrote 'gay' and 'unmasked.' "

We have been favoured by our old and highly esteemed friend the Revd. Dr. George Humble of Viedma with photographs of himself and Mrs. Humble and their son George, the ex-Governor of Rio Negro Territory. We give them a place of honour in the STANDARD album and are most truly glad to see the originals looking in such excellent health. The venerable doctor seems positively to grow younger.

The Abyssinian war is going badly for Italy, in spite of the heroism of her soldiers. It will clean her dry of men and money, just as the Cuba scrimmage is ruining, if it has not already ruined, Spain. Eight thousand more men sailed from Naples yesterday for Massouah, and 16,000 more will embark in the middle of March. King Humbert and Crispi are determined to carry on the war to the bitter end; but there are signs in the political air that the common sense of the Italian people will prevail, and Crispi will be turned out before he ruins his country. The job of conquering Abyssinia, as we have said from the beginning, is quite too formidable for Italy. The latest news is that 65,000 more troops are to be sent.

There will be the grandest racket on record in London next July, when the Czar and fair Czarina of all the Russias will pay their venerable grandmother a visit at Windsor Castle. If Emperor William should invite himself to the family party, the splendour will be increased; but the Transvaal unpleasantness will probably prevent this.

Ho! Look out Bolsa Bears. The Heraldo of Valparaiso says that our timid neighbours on the wrong side of the Andes are greatly alarmed at Argentina's preparations for war, and nothing else is spoken of. It adds that if these preparations be carried much farther, there will be danger of an immediate war.

Look out National Guard officers. You have still three days more, till Saturday next, to report yourselves for the "academias". After that, back to the ranks you go. Yesterday, only 600 had presented themselves at head quarters.

Illustrated visiting cards are the latest freak of fashion in Europe. Like every thing else, they are merely a revival of what was in vogue in France under that model monarch the Fifteenth Louis,

Our esteemed colleague Sport and Pastime, instead of preaching a sermon on a joke, knows one when it is not visible to all naked eyes. It says:—"News there may be, but nobody cares; every thought is taken up by the STANDARD's phenominal luck in raising a sensation over the tables in Mar del Plata. Four thousand is a large stake to risk on one coup, and the excitement consequent upon success is almost enough to excuse inaccuracy in the description of the result; or is the whole thing a beautiful dream served as a STANDARD joke to the hungry for breakfast?"

Ghosts are a fit and proper topic for Lent, we take it; so here's a story fresh from the northern fens of England:—"The inhabitants of the fenny district between Peterborough and Wisbech have been thrown into a state of great excitement of late by the report that an old farmhouse near Thorney was haunted, and that the residents, a farmer named Wilson and his wife, had been obliged to leave their abode. It appears that the inmates of the house were first made aware of the presence of the mysterious visitors by hearing several knocks on the door of the house, and this continued for some time, until matters got to be so unbearable and the wife became so upset that had she continued in the house serious consequences might have resulted. The "ghost" invariably commenced operations by a series of very gentle taps on windows and door, the force of the knocks gradually increasing until they finished up with a terrific crash which shook the house. The fame of the "haunted" house soon spread, and thousands of persons have visited the house, including several spiritualists, one or two taking up their abode in the house for the night, but being obliged to leave it before morning dawned. A school inspector who had been examining some children paid a visit to the farm out of curiosity, and the knocks were heard as he held the door open. This gentleman became so deeply impressed that he wrote to the neighbouring clergyman that "he was convinced it was a spiritual manifestation." Another gentleman from Wisbech, said to have the strongest nerves in the Eastern Counties, was obliged to take his departure from the house after hearing the knocks, and many persons from long distances, bent on investigation, have been unsuccessful in their endeavours to lay the "ghost"."

Ultimo Testimonio recibido

Señores Agar, Cross y Cia., Buenos Aires

Muy Señores mios

Con haber introducido en esta colonia su máquina retormada MacCormick y á mas que en el dia de la fecha para que sea mas completa con la nueva aplicación á la misma máquina del Cutter Bar Frames, he recibido un perjuicio de regular consideracion y un beneficio que supera pero grandemente al perjuicio. Asi se lo manifesté verbalmente á su representante Sr. Jorge Winter. El perjuicio es que tengo muchas máquinas, segadoras de alfalfa y no sé que haré de ellas porque mis chacareros no quieren mas que MacCormick, y el beneficio es que teniendo alfalfares "sembrados espresamente con muchos graminios" todavia no habia encontrado máquina las cortara tan perfectamente como estas. Como en el año proximo cortaré mas de 2000 hectareas de alfalfa semilla y es allí donde se ven las buenas máquinas, les pediré algunas mas, segun venga el corte semilla, este año necesitaré dos. En un concurso, quisiera ver como se puede probar que haya maquina que supere á esta.

ON 'CHANGE.

Wednesday 26th February 1896.
Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 201.00%
SECOND RING..... 201.60%

The boom in London continues and helps to put down our gold premium. The large purchases of stocks yesterday and Monday for foreign account helped also to knock down the premium; these purchases ceased to-day, but at any moment they may be resumed and then another "degringolade" must ensue. Holders of Cedulas of the National Mortgage Bank, of Internal Bonds, of Municipal stock are now on the alert and have their eyes rivetted on London and Frankfurt-am-Main; they are willing to part with their holdings but expect at least five points more as a consideration in the boom. We may, however, add that there are not many millions of these stocks left, and every fresh purchase will send prices up like rockets. Our stock and share market is buoyed up by the most exalted hopes, and all the Catalinas shareholders walk about now with an incipient spring in their heels and look quite altered men, quite cheery and rejuvenated. Merchants and capitalists are ransacking their safes and bank-boxes for all the old waste-paper bonds of the forgotten land companies, as they have a conviction that they will come to the fore again. Should these companies resuscitate, some people will make fortunes. The leading Italian broker at the ring is supposed to hold millions of this class of paper, bought at ring auctions for the last four y ears at waste paper prices.

In London the rise in stocks and shares has not been a flash in the pan, for the rise is well maintained and the demand of the investing market is strong. A telegram received to-day from London states that the turn in the Argentine market may be traced to the settlement of the railway guarantees and the extraordinary revival that is noticed in the weekly traffic receipts of the principal Argentine railways. The figures of the latter, we know, are very closely studied in the London market and are considered a far better barometer of the march of the country than the mercurial gold premium. Only the other day a leading financial paper in London compiled the following instructive table of increases and decreases of railway traffic, which must have fairly astonished Capel-Court:—

Company	No. of weeks	Increase or decrease to end of 1895
Non guaranteed lines—
B. Ayres and Ensenada Port	52	inc. £54,921
B. Ayres and Rosario.	52	" £19,656

*To 7th December, 1895. *To 23rd December, 1895. *To 3rd December, 1895.

On'Change there is a conviction that the gold premium will continue falling as long as the boom lasts in London, and the foreign houses are operating heavily on the basis of the numerous, daily telegrams that are flashed over from noon to night. Those possessed of superior information are banging gold away very freely, but it struck us forcibly this morning that some parties have begun to cover, and that the market resisted the fall, once the Rubicon was crossed at 200% premium. That many have run "short" of gold in the vortex is beyond doubt, and this must act as a brake upon the fall now that we are treading on the heels of the monthly settlement, which promises to be a large and lively operation.

The gold speculation this morning was not quite as active as yesterday and there was a much steadier feeling in the premium. Four hundred thousand gold dollars changed hands for cash; the market opened at 200% premium, flat, fell to 199.50% with a roar of applause round the ring and in the hall, rose then to 201%, and closed rather firm at the rate. An equal amount of gold was banged away for the end af the month-that is to say next Saturday; the premium opened at 201%, fell tp 200%, rose to 201⅛%, and closed at 201%, same rate as for cash. About two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of March: the premium opened at 204%, rose to 205%. and closed at 204⅛%, say 3⅛ points contango, over 1%. An equal amount was chalked up for end of April at 207⅛% and 208% premium—seven points contango, pretty stiff. The business in gold this morning amounted to 1¼ million.

Stocks and shares remained in "statu quo" this morning, the demand for foreign account having ceased. National Cedulas F closed at 85.70 after a very small business. Internal Bonds rose ¼ to 76¼. Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt also ¼ to 82½. La Edificadora shares were quoted at 77½ and 78. One hundred shares of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata changed hands at 72. Spanish Bank shares were steady at 110. Catalinas bolted apparently to 5¼, but closed visibly at 5 in a calmer market.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:

The squeeze in paper money continues. Paper bills range from 8 to 8¼ % per annum: in gold bills there is practically nothing doing, rates nominal at 7 %. The tightness of paper money, at present, helps the fall in gold.

Telegrams from Europe report a firmer tendency in produce. Both wheat and wool have risen. There is much speculation in this market as to the approximate result of our wheat crop: some calculations are altogether too pessimist, others too roseate. Up till the end of December the railway managers considered that the out-put of Buenos Ayres and South and West of Santa Fé would be equal to last season. North and Centre of Santa Fé and Entre Rios have suffered heavy losses and will leave a hiatus in the production —but we doubt much if the falling off in export of wheat this year will reach 25 %, as accounts from Buenos Ayres province are good.

In answer to our correspondent Banker we beg to state that the compilation he wants has not been published, but we shall undertake it and publish the figures in a few days, taking as basis official returns of the Statistical Office of the Nation, which are the only ones that can be relied upon. The total exports of 1895 can be safely put down at a minimum of 120,000,000$ gold, Customs valuation—but of this anon.

Telegrams from Rio de Janeiro quoted the exchange rate on London to-day at 9d.

Mendoza advices report vineyards in splendid order, promising a magnificent yield. The Chambers have sanctioned two important bills, one providing 100.000 dollars to bring out a European Sanitary celebrity to study the conditions of the city and suggest the reforms necessary, and the other establishing the payment of the land tax in 3 instalments, a measure that will help small holders along without hurting the exchequer. In the province of B. Ayres, where the majority of properties are held by wealthy families, there is no call but in Santa Fé, where real-estate has undergone a deal of fractioning, as also in parts of Cordoba, this move of the Mendoza Legislature might be imitated to advantage.

Mr. Roberts, Manager of the Western Railway, left for La Plata to-day, to arrange with Government the erection of grain deposits at the port. They will be built as quickly as possible, and the shipping facilities thus greatly increased, besides doing away with the damage accruing from bad weather.

Argentine dairy products continue to grow in favor in Europe. Messrs W. Waddle and Co's review says that Argentine butter is already calling the attention of the trade, being in a fair way in time to compete on favourable terms with that imported from Australia, though the writer says that actually at present the latter has nothing to complain of this respect. Still the quality of the Argentine article is considered highly satisfactory, some samples being rated as high as best French. The quantity imported by England from Argentina from September 1st is set down at 6133 quintals, 897 sold in Southampton, 971 in Liverpool and 266 in London. We have been promised some interesting items about this butter export business that we shall publish later on.

The Entreriano farmers have presented a petition to the Banco de la Nacion asking for further time to meet engagements, substituting present bills by others with 10% quarterly amortization, and also requesting that the credits granted them be kept open, say till next January. As not the farmers only but also the trades people's interests are bound up in the carrying through of the petition, it is hoped that the board will accede. The Entre Rios Railways Co. has already taken over the Primer Entreriano and will start building up the wreck next month; the junction was finished yesterday and the first train dispatched through to Parana.

In Salta the Alvarado failure reported some days ago is still the absorbing topic, and merchants interested in the business are arriving up daily to investigate: the worst feature of it is that it is apprehended other houses may be drawn in, two being already in quarantine. There have been heavy rains lately that have done a world of good to the camps.

All interested in Mining will be glad to learn that Dr. Joaquin Gonzalez who was entrusted with the task of revising the actual Mining Code has finished the job and will put it before Congress next Session. It is to be hoped and presumed that this gentleman knows something about the business, but the question is if he has had any practical experience of mining laws in actual working, as if not his effort will not be much better than a more classical edition of the present unsatisfactory, impracticable code. What is required is practical reform, but we much fear that unless Dr. Gonzalez has put the business on this footing Congress will not do so, as it is odds that the new Code is approved, libro cerrado, without being discussed or even read. It is unfortunately only too probable however that there will be more pottering and tinkering than any solid reform.

Our colleague La Tribuna reproduced in yesterday's issue an article from La Produccion Argentina from the able pen of our collaborateur Don Carlos Lix Klett, entitled "The Vitality of the country," which runs as follows:—

"During the "Hundred Days reign" special attention has been paid to everything concerning the progress and advancement of the country. A steady improvement is noticed in commercial and agricultural centres, in one word the country as regards financial prospects could not find itself on a better basis. When Argentina commenced arming the general belief was that the Republic was running with open eyes into ruin; produce, however, has proved that with all this extra expenditure, the country is ploughing steadily ahead. The exports this year are far more than expected, the European markets are only too eager to receive produce from here."

Another new Colony. It is said that the Government intend to colonize the Zavalia concession in the Neuquen, declared null and void, the camp covering 32 square leagues and being known as Mal Barco. The part selected for the colony is situated to the North of Chosmalal. Colonists must be citizens, born or naturalized, and they will receive 625 hectares each, subject to the ordinary conditions and obligations of the Homestead Law. In view of the Strawberry Railway and the many petitions for lands in the vicinity already received, the Government believe that the colony will fill up rapidly.

Grand news from Port Madryn. Captain H. Thwaites has just found fresh water at a depth of three metres. He found abundance of water, which is now supplying a long felt want. Up to the present fresh water was always brought down by rail in tanks made expressly for the purpose. This discovery of Captain Thwaites will do away with this inconvenience. It is quite clear that if it has been found in one spot it must be easy to find more, and all that is now wanting is to find it in the Rio Negro back-lands, to open up the whole country down. The ancient mariner had a pretty dry time of it according to Coleridge, but only those who have crossed these southern travesias can estimate the value of this liquid find. It means everything.

The export of sugar goes briskly on. the following being the latest shipments: M. Paz and Co. 6,000 bags, Palacios and Co. 600, Avellaneda and Teran 370, Mendez and Co. 1,090, Azucarera Argentina 200. Messrs. Bemberg and Co. have engaged the s.s. Electra to load 20,000 bags, Messrs. Bustamante, Ocampo, Moreno and others also having shipments in hand: so that there is great activity in this line.

Covering operations made their influence forcibly felt at the second ring, and some strong purchasers of gold also came forward and managed to put up the premium slightly. It is probable that this process will continue till the 29th and prevent a fall, unless some more good news is wired from London. About six hundred thousand gold dollars were sold this evening, a comparatively heavy business for the second ring. The premium closed at 201.60 % for to-morrow delivery and 201.80 % for the 29th—half a million dollars sold. One hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of March, the premium closing at 205¼ %. Something was done for April 30th at 209 %. National Cedulas F went to 86 and Catalinas tottered at 5.

The Finance Minister has ordered Messrs Guarch and Co. to be "executed" for $10,292 which they owe for Internal Taxes. His Excellency has also ordered legal proceedings against the Primer Ingenio Correntino for infringing the Internal Tax Law,

The Minister of the Interior has ordered $25,000 to be paid for cost of printing the proceedings of the National Senate. It seems a very stiff amount indeed.

Messrs. Urdaniz and Co. have asked for free despatch of the materials for the tramway for which they hold a concession from the La Plata Government. The Rentas Office, however, report that they have only a right to free despatch for the rails.

Several steamer agents have petitioned the Minister of Finance to rescind the decree that orders the contents, trade mark, quantity etc., of packages of goods transhipped from ocean to coasting vessels for other ports of the Republic to be set forth in detail. The Director of the Rentas Office recommends the Minister to refuse this and enforce the decree within the time allowed by the Custom House of this port for compliance with it.

The Custom-House receipts to-day were:—

The Minister of Finance has fixed the price of gold for payment of Custom-dues at 301 for Thursday, February 27th.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Though there was a good deal advertized to take place at the marts to-day only one business was carried through, the sale of a nice Chacra of 25 hectares in Moreno which Mr. Kenny got for $11,000 or say at the rate of 440 dollars the hectare, which does not sound high; the farm is only six squares from the station and is surrounded by the Nicolini, Laborde, Fabre, Cantalorella and Barbieri properties. Messrs. R. Bravo and Co. who had carriage of sale also offered 360 hectares of prime camp on the Arroyo Ramallo, being known as the Campo de Corbalan, being 1¾ league from Roja and Sanchez stations, and surrounded by the Doyle, Garboran, Costa and Bengolea properties; the auctioneers announced that the upset price was $70 the hectare, and that the place brought in a rental of $16 the square or say something over $9 the hectare, giving on the base an interest of over 12¼ per annum, but there were no bids and the business fell through.

Nor was Bullrich a whit more successful in his attempt to auction the lease of the fine estancia "Las Averias, 3525 hectares, 5 leagues from Chascomus, with reserve of $8 the hectare, which was not reached, and thus the business fell through.

Messrs. Risso Patron and Co. announced sale of a house in Barracas for account of the Mortgage Bank, but the sale was postponed till 7th March.

An important transaction in wethers. Messrs. Uriburu and Castells have sold to Messrs. Patron Costa and Kusseur 700 head, mestizo Lincoln, from the Estancia Santa Rosa, Rauch, at $9 to be withdrawn before 30th April, delivered at Rauch station:

Santa Fé advices report great demand for steers to fatten, extensive purchases effected as high as $30 per head paid. The saladeros pay $21 for steers and $18 for cows.

Some important transactions in live-stock are reported from the other side of Jordan. Mr. Candido Algorta has sold to fatten 600 lean cows at $7 each and 2,000 steers to the Saladero Fray Bentos at $11 each, this same establishment having also purchased two lots (apartes) of steers from Messrs. Marion and Petit of Arroyo Negro at $11. The Saladero Arroyo Negro has bought from Messrs. Mingote and Pugas 800 steers at $12 each. Messrs. Moreno Bros. of Queguay have received an offer of $7 for 2,000 cows from their property Illarroz in San José.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

According as the end of the month approaches, a steadier and more business like feeling is felt throughout the markets. Gold, which was wavering yesterday, put the brake on this evening and stuck firm at 301 still the opposition is so strong that no one knows what will happen to-morrow. Produce has gone up slightly in Europe, a few pence more even paid for wheat and linseed: maize quotations seem to have dropped out of existence in the foreign markets, none of the telegrams give any reference to the sales. This strikes one all the more when the large shipments are taken into consideration. The local 'consumo' for wheat is for the moment far stronger than the export which is unable to compete with the prices paid by the former. The clamour for waggons on all the railway lines is growing louder and louder every day, business here is suffering on account of the small arrivals. Ir is high time, now that the pressure of the wool clip is over, to pay more attention to this subject, which is of such vital importance to farmers.

If the sales were more active this morning, the markets must thank the consignatarios, who finding that they can no longer count on the gold premium, have decided to cave in, and sell at the prices offered by the "artistas".

Estancieros look on sadly at these transactions, they are not able to understand how prices should run down here when they are daily rising in Antwerp. A couple of months ago, when the news from the exterior was not so satisfactory as now, the different classes of wool commanded far better rates. Everybody thought that when the Germans entered the market to compete with the French artistas, a general reaction would take place, but such has not turned out the case.

The sales reached 700,000 kilos this morning. Prices were decidedly weaker. A fine parcel of cross Lincoln, which only a few days ago was worth 11 dollars, was let go to day at 10.30. The wools which are suffering most are those from Patagones; it is impossible to get more than 5.70 for them, as to the lots with "carretilla" exporters consider them dear at 3 dollars.

The following were the principal sales in the markets:—

CENTRAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Cross Lincoln wool—8000 kilos at 10.20, 2000 do at 10.00, 7000 do 9.80, 2000 do 9.70.

Do mixed — 5000 kilos at 8.60, 7000 do 8.00, 5000 do 8.50, 4000 do 8.40.

Do fine—14000 kilos at 9.00 30000 do 8.50, 13500 do do 8.10, 29,000 do do 8.00, 5000 do do 7.70, 2000 do do 7.60.

Borrega cross—1500 kilos at 10.00, 2000 do 10.00, 5000 do 9.90, 1000 do 8.80.

Do mixed—3000 kilos at 7.80, 2000 do 6.80, 1000 do 7.10.

Do fine—3000 kilos at 7.20. 3000 do 7.10, 7000 do 7.00, 5000 do 6.80.

'Barriga' cross—2000 kilos at 4.30, 1000 do 4.20.

CONSTITUCION.

Lincoln cross wool—23000 kilos at 8.40, 8000 do 7.40.

Mixed do—2000 kilos at 7.80.

Fine do—20000 kilos at 8.50.

Borrega cross do—1000 kilos at 8.60

Business in wheat is still active; the superior French barletta selling at the high price of 8.60. The arrivals are small, only being just sufficient to meet the local "consumo." About 4,000 bags were sold between the Once and the other markets, prices ran from 8 to 8.60. A large sale in Rosario of 6,000 quintals at $7 in waggon was reported this evening. Several large parcels of maize were picked up this morning: transactions reached 20,000 bags at 3.10 and 3.30 for yellow, and 2.70 and 2.90 for "morocho."

Yesterday can be put down as the first active day in linseed. Exporters stepped with a decided business air, the stock, however, is rather small for large competition. The reaction is probably due to the telegrams from London, which report a rise of six pence in the article, the market price there being now 30 shillings and 6 pence. In Antwerp there has also been a slight rise, linseed by vessel selling there at 19 3/8 francs. It is calculated that some 12,000 bags were sold at 9.40 and 9.60 in the Once and 9.40 and 9.80 in the Riachuelo. In the port some 200 tons were sold at 9.65 on board.

The news from the Northern colonies shows that the farmers are passing through a critical period. Having no crops to fall back on and no credit in the business houses, several families have been reduced to sell their agricultural implements and emigrate to other parts. In a huge country like this, it is impossible that the crops in all districts could be equal, from one side the news is bad, whereas from the other it could not be better.

Rosario sellers still refuse to take the offers made by exporters; operations in wheat are for this reason very dull. Some few lots tall into the hands of hurried exporters at 7 and 7.05, but the real market prices are from 6.80 to 6.90. The general situation is critical, the news from B. Ayres and the shock in the gold premium all contribute to create a greater depression. The only buyers in maize are a couple of firms from Buenos Aires, several colonists have signed contracts for new maize at 3 dollars with 20 and 25 % advance. Linseed has evidently got its feet in the stocks, prices remain unchanged, 9.50 and 9.65 being the highest rates paid. The sales were remarkably small. The fact of the matter is that the Rosario markets are passing through an epoch of stagnation and depression, the only news received from those quarters are the quotations, as to large transactions, they have been totally unknown for some time.

Wheat stood out for higher prices in Montevideo; the consumo operated at 2.50 and 2.60. The sales amounted to about 3900 bags at prices from 2.40 to 2.60. No sales were reported in maize, the market continues in the same flat condition, viz, good prices and few operations.

There was some talk on the Bolsa today that a saladero from Uruguay had effected a sale of 10,000 salted hides of 31 kilos at 18.75, and 1000 pipes of tallow at 9.06, both lots to be placed in Montevideo or in Buenos Aires; the business, however, has not yet been confirmed. Several large sales in live-stock were also reported.

The activity in wool has revived to a certain extent, in the barracas 30,000 kilos were sold at 2.50 and in the other deposits about 45,000 kilos were sold at 2.40 and 2.60 per 10 kilos. One of the barracas also sold 15,000 becerro hides at 2.80 and 2.90; a small parcel of horse hair fetched 3.40 the 10 kilas.

IT IS a well known and deplorable fact that Carnival is the only time of the year when a great many people knock about masked, in order to show themselves, as they really are, thereby making life unbearable to their fellow-beings. Fleeing from the temporary carni-vale of tears, there is no better joy close at hand than to place one self and those dear to one's heart, under the majestic Ombu of the sylvan fields, with a quantity of bottled good will and happiness and a box of the Tit-Bits biscuits. Just try and you will know for yourself. 697 15 30
